

Heckler & Koch with continuous growth and strong order intake

- Order intake: EUR 460.9 million
- Revenue: EUR 279.1 million
- Operating result EBITDA: EUR 52.6 million
- Result after taxes EAT: EUR 25.4 million
- Supervisory Board approves next investment programme

Heckler & Koch continued its growth momentum in the first nine months of 2025. The order intake stands at EUR 460.9 million, demonstrating the persistently high demand for the company's products. The strong order intake significantly contributed to higher revenue, which rose to EUR 279.1 million. Revenue growth and consistently high capacity utilisation in production also had a positive impact on earnings: the operating result (EBITDA) increased to EUR 52.6 million, and the result after taxes (EAT) rose markedly to EUR 25.4 million.

Additionally, the Supervisory Board has approved a new investment programme worth 85 million euros for the Oberndorf site. With this programme, Heckler & Koch is purposefully strengthening its technological foundation and long-term competitiveness at its home location. At the same time, the company continues to advance its digital transformation: optimised production processes, digital manufacturing planning and modern IT systems are enhancing quality, transparency and efficiency throughout the entire value chain. Heckler & Koch is also making important strides in sustainability. With energy-efficient systems, consistent resource savings and a clear commitment to CO₂ reduction, the company is working towards more resource-efficient operations.

The Management Board comments:

“Heckler & Koch is excellently positioned to meet the persistently high demand for our products. Our customers rely on quality, precision and reliability, and we consistently deliver. The new investment programme underscores our ambition to continue growing and strengthen our technological base in the future. Thanks to a solid financial structure and strong earning power, we are continuously investing in innovation, processes and people, thus securing our performance and trust worldwide.”
